The human brain contains, on average, about 86 billion nerve cells called neurons, each individually linked to other neurons by way of connectors called axons and dendrites. Signals at the junctures of these connections are transmitted by the release and detection of chemicals known as neurotransmitters. The established neuroscientific consensus is that the human mind is largely an emergent ...

Michael D. writes... A source fed optically into a playbar or analog into a Connect is in sync across multiple zones. According to Sonos there is a 70ms propagation delay, however since the playbar uses the distribution system and doesn't play directly from the input the delay is equal for all speakers.
